

Lesson Planet Exhibits at CUE

CEO & Founder Jim Hurley to Present at CUE: “Lesson Planet: An Online Search & Community Solution for Teachers”

Enter to Win a Free One-Year Site License at Booth #328

For More Information Contact:

Lynn Stadler
lynn@lessonplanet.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

PALM SPRINGS, March 17, 2011 – Computer-Using Educators (CUE) – Lesson Planet, a leading online search and community solution specifically for PreK-12 educators, is showcasing its Lesson Planet Site License Edition™ at this week’s Computer-Using Educators conference. With the new Edition’s special site license pricing and Admin tools, schools and districts can now easily provide all their teachers with the same powerful curriculum planning solution that individual teachers in the Lesson Planet community have enjoyed for nearly a decade.

“The theme of this year’s CUE is Ignite, Inspire & Innovate Learning, and we are very excited to do exactly that by providing our leading online curriculum solution that allows teachers to search from more than 350,000 teacher-reviewed and rated online lessons and worksheets,” said Jim Hurley, Lesson Planet CEO & Founder. “Lesson Planet lets school and district administrators provide all their teachers with an easy-to-use curriculum search and planning solution that saves teachers time, helps them differentiate instruction and inspires great teaching.”

Lesson Planet (www.lessonplanet.com) empowers educators to narrow their searches for online curriculum by grade, teacher rating, subject, resource type, teaching method, theme, calendar, technology, duration, and more. They can easily find, comment about and save targeted, peer-reviewed, standards-correlated online lesson plans and worksheets for nearly any subject. Lesson Planet’s Site License Edition provides schools and districts with a cost-effective way to administer multiple Lesson Planet subscriptions for their teachers.

“Each month our experienced team of credentialed teacher-reviewers adds more than 10,000 new reviews of online lesson plans and worksheets to Lesson Planet’s ever-expanding solution,” said Hurley. “These ongoing updates enable teachers to continually discover new curriculum ideas that they can differentiate and adapt to the learning styles of their students. With Lesson Planet, teachers can save valuable hours each week on curriculum planning while providing their students with engaging, innovative lessons that are matched to state standards.”

About Lesson Planet

Lesson Planet is a leading online teacher search and community solution for PreK-12 educators. The company is dedicated to making the lives of teachers easier by providing a powerful curriculum search solution that helps them to discover, share, engage and inspire. When it comes to lesson planning, Lesson Planet saves valuable time by making it easy to search from more than 350,000 teacher-reviewed and rated online lessons and worksheets. Lesson Planet enables teachers to narrow and refine their searches by grade, rating, subject, teaching method, resource type, calendar, theme and more. In seconds, teachers can find targeted, peer-reviewed, standards-correlated online resources that enable them to more effectively differentiate their instruction to the learning styles of their students.

Founded in 1999 by educator Jim Hurley, Lesson Planet is the #1 online teacher curriculum search and community solution. The Site License Edition is a cost-effective and easy-to-administer version designed for schools and districts. For more information, email Sales@lessonplanet.com, visit www.lessonplanet.com/site_license_signup.com or call 877-953-7766.